

2019 AWC Innovation Award

The AWC Innovation Award is designed for women who are NOT professional communicators.

The general public is open to nominate candidates for this category.

This award honors a woman who has achieved excellence in communicating a project, mission, or event. Innovators can capture audiences and create connections which advance a goal that benefits the overall community. Working actively in areas such as civic engagement, not-for-profit, education, public health, leadership, and volunteerism, the AWC Innovator is a woman who goes above and beyond to find innovative ways to generate interest and inspire others.

Forms are due December 7, 2018.

Name of nominee:

Nominee email and business address:

Please include an attachment answering the following:

- Describe the nominee's career highlights (300 words or less).
- Describe how the nominee uses communications, and has worked beyond the boundaries of her profession to connect with the community via communications (500 words or less).

Name of person submitting the nomination, email and phone:

All nominations forms must be returned via email by Friday, December 7, to awcbtn.org@gmail.com with "AWC Crystal Awards" in the subject line.

Nominees will be contacted for resumes and biography information.

Winners will be announced Thursday, February 28, 2019
at the Crystal Awards Dinner.

Please forward all questions to awcbtn.org@gmail.com or phone 815-662-5AWC (815-662-5292).