

Scholarship Chair – Elizabeth Chupp:

Elizabeth is the Director of Advisement for the School of Communication at Illinois State University. In this role, she is responsible for guiding students towards meeting their academic and professional goals. She also plays a significant role in the administrative functioning of the School of Communication, including recruitment efforts, enrollment management, curriculum planning, and more. She also serves as an instructor in the School, teaching a variety of introductory communication courses.

Prior to Illinois State, Elizabeth held positions at Gaggle.Net (training and development), Caterpillar (internal corporate communication), and University of Illinois (visiting instructor). Elizabeth holds a B.S. in Public Relations and a M.S. in Communication, both from Illinois State University.

Elizabeth and her husband are the proud parents of twin boys! In her free time, she enjoys scrapbooking, reading, baking, and spending time with her family.
