

Rachel is an associate director for Illinois State University's Alumni Engagement. Here she is responsible for all marketing and communication outreach for alumni engagement. She also served as the marketing coordinator for ISU's University Housing before joining Alumni Engagement. Prior to her time at Illinois State, Rachel worked at Sauk Valley Community College as its marketing director where she was responsible for advertising, media relations, social media, and overall marketing of the college. She holds a Master of Science in Communication and Bachelor of Science in Public Relations from Illinois State University.

Rachel is an equestrian, runner, and loves to enjoy the outdoors with her husband and fur child, Zoey.